

About Us

LIFE4EPR is a European-funded project committed to unlocking the full potential of Extended Producer Responsibility (EPR) across the EU.

At the heart of the project is the design and testing of a pilot European EPR register – a digital platform aimed at improving the harmonization of EPR registers across

Current EPR challenges

- the absence of an EU-wide overview of EPR schemes at Member State level
- the lack of harmonization among existing producer/product registers
- the lack of knowledge about the environmental effectiveness of EPR programmes

LIFE4EPR Objectives

EPR STATE OF THE ART

1. Analyse EPR schemes across EU Member States to identify context-specific challenges, and best practices, with the aim of improving governance, transparency, accountability, innovation, and cooperation.

EU-WIDE HARMONISED SOLUTION

2. Develop and test a harmonised EU-wide EPR register to improve compliance.

EPR AWARENESS RAISING

3. Raise awareness of EPR schemes and their environmental impact by disseminating project results to producers, citizens, and consumer groups.
